ral Business Revival Re-ected in Large Number of Transactions.

ence of the general business revival
is upon the country was reflected in the activity of the real estate market, which registered the largest of important transactions since
war. This included both downtown business property, as well as a free
lot of the low and the cheaper
of improved property.

downtown transactions were not
of special importance, but the fact of being downtown transactions gave a special interest in view of the fact that this market for a long time
has been one of the most active
of improved property.

100,000 Leasehold Price.
Moss, who is the owner of the building at the northeast corner of avenue and Adams street, which is the above property on the south side of the street, has been offered for leasehold at $100,000.

in exchange Mr. Porter considered the $100,000 front foot, a lot of 275 feet of front, with improved for an expressed consideration of subject to an incumbrance of $100,000.

deals in St. Clair District.
Moss also figured in two transactions in the St. Clair district, which were matters of record. He sold to E. Anderson the vacant property southeast corner of Huron and air street, 100x100 feet, for an expressed consideration of $50,000.

Good Deal on West Side.
An interesting transaction in west side
property, made a matter of record, was the sale by Joseph M. Brown-son, a dealer in real estate, of a property on the west side of Huron street, 100x100 feet, with improved with a three story building
containing nine stores on the ground and two flats and five offices on the floors.

ing reforms in connection with assessments by which it is desired to save $400,000 a year, and to reduce the city and a like sum monthly meeting of the Chicago board last week.

Recommendations were obtained from a joint committee of the board and the county board, and suggested to the committee by E. J.
H. secretary of the board of local improvements and superintendent of the assessment department.

the recommendation is that the city should secure a reduction of the proportionate reduction
to all frontages involved.
It was recommended that the city
scheme of excess condemnation
be put into effect in continental Europe.

U.S. SENATORS PAID $75,000 BY CARRANZA?

Bribery Reported Used to Aid Evacuation of Vera Cruz.

DENIED BY ZUBARAN.

Mexico City, Dec. 6.—(By messenger to El Paso, Tex., Dec. 6.)—That Carranza paid $75,000 in gold to two United States senators for their influence in bringing about the evacuation of Vera Cruz is indicated by correspondence and records
found in the Mexican national treasury
after Carranza and all his troops had fled from Mexico City.

It is impossible to ascertain from the documents the names of the senators, but the fact remains that the books of the treasury contain entries showing that this sum was paid out for such purposes
about a week before Nov. 23, when Gen.
Punzon led his forces out of Vera Cruz
by order of the war department at Washington.

Money Sent to Zubaran.
When the treasury was taken over by the emergency government that came after Carranza's brief and disastrous attempt to direct state affairs, attention was called to an item of $75,000 gold disbursed by Finance Minister Reynoso for "extraordinary diplomatic expenses."
Search, impelled by curiosity to ascertain what these extraordinary diplomatic expenses might be that involved the expenditure of such a large sum, revealed that the money had been transmitted by Carranza's order to Rafael Zubaran, chief of the Carranzista junta in Washington.

Zubaran Denies Payment.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—
When shown a report from Mexico City that $75,000 had been paid him to be given to two unnamed United States senators for having the American troops withdrawn from Vera Cruz, Rafael Zubaran, Carranza's local representative, tonight
said:

"There is not a word of truth in that report. No such payment was made to me."
WANT BORDER PROTECTED.
Naco, Ariz., Dec. 6.—Citizens of Naco
today sent out another appeal for protection from the Mexican fire from the line of Naco, Sonora, just across the line, which has killed five and wounded
forty-two persons on the Arizona side
during the last two months.

Appeal Sent to Ashurst.
The telegram sent to United States Senator Ashurst reads:
"Have appeal to Washington in vain
for some relief. The citizens of Naco now come to you and ask you to help us.
There is no safety in the streets day or night, and little in the houses. We suggest you introduce a bill providing for automatically closing Mexican border
ports when they become the battleground for foreign factions, securing immediate passage if possible. Five have been killed and forty-two wounded, and the end is not yet. For God's sake, help us."

Gov. Hunt at Phoenix wired late tonight that Secretary of State Bryan had premised that all possible protection would be furnished to residents of Naco.

Zapata Troops Defeated.
Laredo, Tex., Dec. 6.—Troops under
Gen. Cosario Castro defeated a detachment of Zapata's troops yesterday at San Martin in an engagement in which the casualties amounted to 1,200, according to advices received here tonight from sources favorable to Carranza.

Several towns in Mexico are called San Martin, and the dispatch failed to indicate which was meant.

Agent of Chicagoans Slain.
Galveston, Tex., Dec. 6.—Walter R.
Innes, 28 years old, superintendent of the plantations of the Banana Groves company of Chicago, at Julia, Indiana of Texas, was shot and killed by Mexican bandits the night of Nov. 22, according to Roger Innes, a brother, who arrived here today with the body.

Janitor Grilled as Murderer of Child in Church

Sacramento Police Told He Knew Body When Pastor Did Not.

HELD PARTLY INSANE

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—
The web of circumstantial evidence was woven tighter today about David Fontaine, janitor of the German Lutheran church, who is being detained by the police pending an investigation of the accused and subsequent murder of 10-year old Margaret Millings, whose mutilated
body was found in the church basement
yesterday.

Under a steady cross fire of questions by the police today Fontaine denied he murdered the child. He reiterated that he was up town at a moving picture show at the time the murder must have been committed. Though volatile yesterday, he was tactful and evasive today to the questions of the police.

Pastor Suspects Janitor.
The Rev. Charles Oehler, pastor of the church, today said Fontaine knew the identity of the girl when he and his wife,
who knew her exceedingly well, could not recognize her disfigured face in the dim light of the church basement.

"Fontaine rushed into our home and said the body of the little Millings girl was lying in the basement," the Rev. Mr.
Oehler said. "Neither my wife nor myself could recognize the child until we had lifted the body to a window and pushed back the hair which covered her face."

Search for His Underclothes.
The police are searching for Fontaine's underclothing, by which they hope to clinch the crime on him. When arrested
the man was attired without undergar-
ments.

The only direct evidence against him
was several blood spots on his trousers
legs and some of the girl's matted hair
on his clothing. Fontaine explained
these by saying he helped to lift the body
from the floor and assisted the Rev. Mr.
Oehler in an effort to resuscitate the girl.

Dr. F. W. Hatch, state medical superintendent, and Dr. C. E. Jones, county physician, examined Fontaine tonight
and pronounced him insane along certain lines.

It developed today that Fontaine has served five prison terms for burglary and saw robbery, and several months in an asylum.

Test Out Janitor's Story.
Detectives today took Fontaine over the route he said he had gone between the time he left the church yesterday morning and when he returned and found the body of the girl.

Allowing for the time spent at the picture theater, the police established to their satisfaction that Fontaine could have returned to the church in time to intercept the girl, commit the murder,
and then, two hours later, return to go about his duties.

DEATH THREAT SENT POLICE BRIBE JURORS

25 More Bureau Men Im- plicated; Bare Crooks' Magic Card.

SQUEALERS STAMPEDE.

The final weapon of the Camorra—the threat of assassination—has been brought into use by the dying fight of Chicago's police and crime alliance.

Three members of the grand jury that returned the graft indictments against Capt. John J. Halpin, Lieut. John H.
Tobin, and former Detective Walter O'Brien received anonymous letters threatening their lives if the true bills were found.

The families of several members of the jury are frightened, although the grand jurors themselves make light of the matter. The anonymous letters are in the possession of the state's attorney. Measures have been taken to protect the lives of the jurors who voted the indictments.

Makes Rush to "Squel."
State's Attorney Hogan announced yesterday that he had obtained evidence against twenty-five more members of the detective bureau and other details, and that "police men were falling over themselves to confess in return for immunity."

Clarence Claas, the confidence man,
whose confessions were announced in yesterday's TRIBUNE, has implicated Tom Kerwin, long saloonkeeper, as a "police fixer" for swindlers. He is one of those said to be threatened with the fate accorded Barney Bertche in Randolph street. Claas was released from the Fifteenth street police station last night and immediately went into hiding, for fear of being "Rosenthalized."

The informer had told the state's attorney of the issuance of "crime permits" or "identification cards," which he contended were given to police men
with them as carte blanche to operate.

Menaced Before Indictments.
The threats upon the lives of the three members of the grand jury were made two days preceding the voting of the indictments. The three members who had been singled out by the crime syndicate received letters telling them that if they valued their lives, not to vote the indictments. The letters were anonymous, according to a report emanating from the Criminal Court building. Telephone calls to the residences of the men likewise carried similar messages.

It is known that the jurors threatened appealed to the state's attorney not to make their action public until the grand jury had been discharged. Those appeals also occurred on two different days just preceding the action of the jurors in returning the true bills which caught Capt.
Halpin, Lieut. Tobin, and former Detective Sergeant O'Brien.

Names Kept Secret.
The names of the three threatened jurors were not made public by the state's attorney.

The threats directed at the grand jurors were described by Barney Bertche as characteristic of the crime syndicate
which is fostered by crooked policemen.
Bertche declared in the grand jury
room, it was reported, that he was shot because it was known he might tell his story of years as paymaster for the crooks. The threatening letters and the anonymous telephone calls are believed to have been a last resort of the tottering syndicate.

RUSH FOR COUNTY JOBS IS ON TODAY

Fifty of McCormick's Aids Are Slated to Lose Posts to Reinberg Men.

The new county officials will step into their jobs today, and a free-for-all rush
for minor jobs is expected.

The most important change will be the retirement of President A. A. Mc-Cormick, who will make way for Peter Reinberg, former alderman and member of the board of education. Mr. Rein-berg's entrance into the office means that close to fifty good appointive employees of the county will be seeking other work soon.

The warden of the county hospital,
county agent, superintendent of the Oak Forest infirmary, and the county purchasing agent under Mr. McCormick's regime are to be retired by President
Reinberg immediately.

Harry Bailey Slated.
It is understood Harry Bailey, who was warden under Bartleson, will be retired to that position by Reinberg.
County Agent Joseph Meyer resigned
Saturday, as did Sup. Mullenbach of the Oak Forest institution. Robert Kanyon, purchasing agent, also went in his resignation at the close of business Saturday noon.

Michael Zimmer will turn over the sheriff's office to John E. Traeger, and Mr. Traeger will relinquish the city controller's office to Mr. Zimmer. There will be several changes on the sheriff's staff. Mr. Zimmer was not partial to the H.-H. clan in his appointments and had several Sullivan and Republican aids on his pay roll. It is understood Mr. Traeger will fill these places with available
H.-H. followers.

O'Connell Will Retire.
Another important change in the management of the county's affairs is the retirement of William L. O'Connell as county treasurer. Henry Stuckert will succeed O'Connell, whose interest, troubles have coupled much of the time of the county board during the last season.

Municipal Judge Thomas F. Sully will succeed John E. Owens as county judge.
It is understood another job has been provided for Owens in the county service by the H.-H. faction. With the advent of Sully into the office there will be a change in the election board. A man will be named to succeed Howard S. Taylor, whose term has expired.

GERMANS CAPTURE LODZ AFTER FIERCE BATTLE

Warship Driven Ashore in Gale on Coast of U. S.

Unknown Vessel, Be- lieved to Be European, in Peril Off Maryland.

NAVY SENDING AID

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—
An unknown foreign warship tonight is aground off the Maryland coast and at the mercy of a high sea and northeast gale.

The plight of the vessel was made known in dispatches to the navy department from Ocean City and immediately
Assistant Secretary of the Navy Room
vult ordered the revenue cutter Itasca from Hampton Roads to the rescue. The Itasca is not expected to reach the scene
until tomorrow morning.

The dispatches from Ocean City stated that the unknown man-of-war was aground and in distress about a mile off shore, three miles north of the North Beach life saving station and six miles south of Ocean City. Observers nearest the vessel say it has four funnels, and they can see its fighting tops.

High Seas Prevent Rescue.
Owing to thick weather and high seas
the life saving service is unable to get in communication with the vessel or to send boats to the rescue.

With the first reports it was thought that the stranded vessel might be either the destroyer Terry or Parkins of the American navy, which were ordered yesterday to proceed from Newport, R. I., to Charleston, S. C. Later in the evening, however, the safe arrival of both destroyers at Norfolk was reported to the navy department. Navy officials then asserted that no American warship could be in the vicinity of Ocean City.

Frigate, Driven Ashore, Sunk.
Norfolk, Va., Dec. 6.—With two destroyers
and one cutter, the historic old frigate Constitution, which came near being driven ashore off Ocean View by yesterday's severe northeast gale, was towed to the Norfolk navy yard today by naval tug.
There were twenty men on board.

The frigate broke away from the navy
tug Ontario, towing her from Washington to Newport, R. I., early yesterday, while off Thimble Shoals Light. The wind was blowing fifty miles an hour and the seas were high.

BALE ALLED FLEET RAID.
LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Central News correspondent at Copenhagen says the following dispatch has been received in the Danish capital from Berlin:

"Forty British and French warships are gathered outside (name deleted by censor)
with the evident intention of forcing their way through. This, however, will be impossible, as the fortifications have been strengthened greatly and the water is thickly strewn with mines."

Repairing Cruiser Goeben.
PARIS, Dec. 6.—A dispatch to the Bureau agency from Athens says that the cruiser Goeben, purchased by Turkey from Germany, is undergoing repairs of the heavy damage suffered in the battle
with a Russian fleet in the Black Sea
recently.

The Goeben was struck by fifteen shells
from Russian ships, which are said to have killed 138 members of its crew, besides destroying a turret, mainmast,
and one engine.

The Goeben's sailors who were killed, it is said, were buried in the garden of the German ambassador's summer residence at Therapia, a village eight miles northwest of Constantinople, on the Bosphorus.
Two-thirds of the Goeben's crew are said to be Germans and the remainder Austrians.

Mine Damages Cruiser Hamidieh.
PETROGRAD, Dec. 6.—The Turkish cruiser Hamidieh has struck a mine and returned to Constantinople considerably damaged, according to the Russian official news agency's Constantinople advice.

These advices also say that Russian warships have sunk six Turkish fishing vessels which were carrying war supplies.

Fay Holmes of 124 West Ohio street
probably doesn't know yet that the man
also known by a police arrangement from a rear window into the alley four stories
below, while Detective Sergeant Patrick Murphy and Thomasweeney were waiting outside her locked door last night to arrest her was one of Maj. M. L. C. Pankhouse's investigators. Hours of "Frenchy" the investigator tipped off
the police, and when they arrived the woman locked the door. Then she hurried her guest out of the back window to the alley by means of an arrangement used for heating coal. She was looked on as a charge of operating a disorderly house.

Women to Take a Hand.
Mrs. Charlotte C. Rhodus, president of the Woman's party of Cook county, said
last night she intends to make an inspection of the dancing scene this week in company with her husband. She is going to ask Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dixon, and Mr.
and Mrs. C. F. Hunt to take part in the inspection.

"It's up to the mayor to make them quit," said Mrs. Rhodus. "He could stop them at once by threatening to revise their licenses."

MEN, FEDERATION'S EDICT.

Chicago Labor Body Adopts Resolutions to Regulate Funerals of its Members.

Yesterday was a gloomy day. It brought to mind many disagreeable subjects. The principal topics of debate at the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor were funerals. It ended by the members of the federation adopting a resolution which required all to provide for burial in union made coffins.

"It's a shame," said a delegate,
"that union men are not far enough
enough to guard against burial in non-union coffins. We want ourselves to death for the unions and some of us get killed in defending our cause, and to what purpose? Why, to be buried in a non-union coffin."

A delegate from the "bob" union announced the union intended to give a banquet and that he had 100 tickets to sell.
The federation voted unanimously to buy the tickets.

PRIEST AND NUN PREVENT
PANIC OVER FIRE ALARM.

Exhort Frightened Sisters to Follow
Example of Children, Who Fall
Into Line According to Drill.

The coolness of a priest and a nun prevented a panic among a thousand women and children last night when the fire alarm was sounded in the assembly room
on the fourth floor of the Immaculate Conception parish school, at Eighty-fourth street and Exchange avenue, South Chicago.

Father Francis Wojtalowicz, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, and Sister Georgia, mother superior in charge of the same teaching in the school, were on the platform. The priest exhorted the frightened women to follow the example of the children, who automatically took the positions assigned to them in the drill, and be calm. At the same time Sister Georgia ordered the little orchestra
to strike up a lively air.

Several women fainted, however, before the janitor arrived with news that there was no fire.

land. It has numerous textile mills, the majority of them for the manufacture of cotton goods. In addition it has flour mills, drying establishments, brick yards, machinery plants, and breweries. The population is made up of Poles, Germans, and Jews.

Germans Attack Russian Flanks.
Other news from the eastern front indicates that the Germans have commenced another attempt to envelop the Russians on both flanks. This is indicated by the fact that there is fighting near Lódz to the north of Lódz and at Piotrków to the south.

Both of these places are in advance of the positions at which the Germans previously have been reported in their second invasion of Poland and, like Lódz, they are situated on the main roads to the Polish capital.

Russians Claim Many Captives.
PETROGRAD, Dec. 6.—An official statement issued here describes as ridiculous the German claims of having captured enormous numbers of prisoners, cannon, and machine guns. It says that the armies have been fighting continuously and that it is impossible to estimate the losses.

"This fact," continues the statement, "prevents us from publishing an official denial as the general staff carefully avoids giving any details that have not been verified."

On the other hand, the German denial that they have lost a single gun is disproved by the fact that in the Breslau district alone near Lódz we took from them twenty-three guns and a large number of machine guns. In the same district, 10,000 have passed one point alone of our front where prisoners are registered.

Says Germans Lost Heavily.
"Neither do the Germans mention the supply columns which they burned near the common and ammunition which they abandoned in the forests and which we are gradually finding."

The Germans also conceal the losses which they sustained in the November fighting, although witnesses state that over a half of a battle presented such a sight as on the roads of the German retreat towards Stryków. At some points where we attacked the German flanks the German dead were piled several feet high. All the inhabitants of the district have been engaged in the work of burying the dead and clearing the fields where the recent combats were waged.

Several German divisions, especially that of the guards, have been severely tried during their efforts to escape our clutches that they have disappeared from the front in order to recuperate and reorganize their formations."

Russians Bombard Cracow.
THE HAGUE, Dec. 6.—A Russian staff officer today made the statement that according to official news received at 4 o'clock this afternoon, a Russian force is now bombarding Cracow and its suburbs from the southeast.

AMERICANS HAILED AS SAVIORS BY BELGIANS.

Native Relief Worker Thanks U. S., and Says Aid Must Continue or People Will Starve.

ROTTERDAM, Holland, Dec. 6.—"For the last fortnight all have been living on American food, and it saved us from starvation," was the statement made today by a Belgian committee member distributing American relief shipments in Liege province.

"Our people knew food was expected from America and its arrival was the sole point of conversation throughout the province."

"The Americans have saved us from starvation," was the cry on every lip. Every American seen in Liege was hailed as a benefactor. Whenever an automobile carrying an American flag passes in the streets the people take off their hats and cheer. Our heartiest thanks to the American people who pray them to allow their generosity to continue, for without them we should have starved and without them we must starve."

OSTEND AFLAME? ALLIES ADVANCE AT MANY POINTS

Germans Admit Giving Ground, but Say That It Was for Strategic Reasons.

LONDON, Dec. 7, 3 a. m.—"Ostend is reported to be on fire," says the Daily Chronicle in a dispatch from Dunkirk. "It is believed the conflagration was caused either by a British bombardment or German incendiaries."

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The allies continue to push forward in Flanders and in northern France, but the Germans explain that they are giving ground for tactical and strategic reasons. The advance, as far as Flanders is concerned, seems to have been checked on the outskirts of Langemark.

Secondly more important is the official statement that the French have interfered with the German communications between Metz and the Woerthe district in France. For here, as elsewhere, command of the roads is of the greatest importance to the armies.

Admit Loss of Vervelles.
BRUSSELS, Dec. 6.—The evacuation by the Germans last night of Vervelles, southeast of Bethune, was officially announced in a statement issued here today. The statement says:

"Vervelles was evacuated by us according to our plan on account of the continuous French artillery fire, which was causing unnecessary loss. The buildings which remained standing were blown up by us and our troops occupied positions prepared east of Vervelles so that the enemy could not follow in this direction."

"Southeast of Altkirch the French renewed their attack with reinforcements, but without success, and they suffered heavy loss."

French Official Statement.
PARIS, Dec. 6.—The following official communication was given out in Paris this afternoon:

"In Belgium on Dec. 5, not far from the Hanneux house, the capture of which was reported yesterday (referred to in yesterday's statement as that of a ferryman on the canal between Dixmude and Ypres), our heavy artillery destroyed a German field fort. The enemy made a vain attempt to recapture Wieldendrecht."

"In the Argonne the war of the sapper was pursued. We continue to progress slowly, repelling all the enemy's attacks."

"Slight progress was likewise made in the region of Vervelles. The German artillery there has been silenced."

King's Second Son with Navy.

PRINCE ALBERT ADMIRALTY AID: GETS OWN WISH

Second Son of King George Hopes to Win Position Near the Fighting Line.

BY FREDERIC W. WILE.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE.]
LONDON, Dec. 6.—Prince Albert, the second son of the king and queen, who will be 19 years old on Dec. 14, has succeeded in getting his own way in regard to doing something "for his king and country," and he now is officially attached to the navy.

Shortly before the outbreak of the war Prince Albert was serving aboard as a midshipman and when the war came he expressed the most ardent desire to return to his ship, but it was thought best to keep him at home.

The young man, who is a paragon of energy, determination, and patriotism, has been chafing under his enforced idleness and a few days ago it was learned that he had succeeded in inducing the king and queen to permit him to attach himself to the navy for service.

He is performing his humble duties with ability and enthusiasm and tells his friends that he is intent on acquitting himself in such a manner that promotion to a sphere more approaching the "real thing" will come to him as a reward for merit.

Prince Albert's entry into active service marks the fact that all three of the leading men of the British royalty are engaged in military affairs. The king and the Prince of Wales recently have returned from the field of activity on the continent and are taking an active part in the army.

GREAT WAR THINS RANKS OF THE MONTENEGRO ARMY.

Third of 80,000 Enlisted Men Fall on Battlefield—Tiny Nation Needs Money and Supplies.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 6.—King Nicholas of Montenegro has telegraphed the Bourse Gazette that a third of his army has fallen on the battlefield. "Nevertheless," he says, "Montenegro will continue to defend their country and deliver attacks on the enemy's territory. Their means are exhausted and they will be most grateful for assistance either in money or supplies."

[The war strength of the Montenegrin army is estimated at approximately 80,000 men. A number of allied transports are at Antivari. The assumption is that these transports carried troops which would assist the Montenegrins in their campaign.]

PROVES IRISH LOYAL TO CROWN

John Redmond, in Reply to Critics, Says 130,000 Have Gone to War.

CITES DATA IN CLAIM.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Speaking at a great demonstration at Tuam, Ireland, today John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, replied to statements that Ireland was not doing its duty in the present crisis.

Mr. Redmond declared that 130,000 of the 200,000 Irishmen in the home army were Catholics. He said that 10,112 Ulster volunteers had gone to the colors from Belfast, while in the same city the Nationalist volunteers, who represented only one quarter of the population, had contributed 2,512 men. This, he believed, was only the beginning of what Irishmen would do.

If it were added tens of thousands of Irish recruits who were joining the colors in Great Britain were now in the ranks of the Canadian, Australian, or New Zealand contingents, he said, it was safe to say that from 120,000 to 140,000 Irishmen were with the colors.

Mr. Redmond declared that 52,000 of the 80,000 Irishmen in the home army were Catholics. He said that 10,112 Ulster volunteers had gone to the colors from Belfast, while in the same city the Nationalist volunteers, who represented only one quarter of the population, had contributed 2,512 men. This, he believed, was only the beginning of what Irishmen would do.

"True salesmanship consists in selling goods that don't come back—to people who do come back."

I saw that—or something like it—in a little magazine the other day and repeat here because it says more about good business than any other short sentence I have ever seen.

The "people who do come back" are

who buy their clothes at Cappper's ask us to do their choosing for them. We are very glad of this, for it gives us the opportunity to utilize the lessons of our long experience in fitting the right clothes to the right man.

The result is a thorough appreciation of our thoughtful selling service—a service which we believe is the best in Chicago.

And the merchandise matches the service—a combination which makes permanent patrons out of chance customers.

My Special Shoes Will Put Your Feet in a Healthy Condition

All foot ills result from ill-fitting shoes.

My Special Shoes are made right over your own feet.

It matters not whether you suffer with broken arches, weak ankles, corns, callouses, bunions, pains in the limbs (often diagnosed as rheumatism), sore, tender, flat or deformed feet, my special shoes will relieve you of your trouble.

I have designed Special Shoes for particular ailments, among which are the Larson Anatomic Sta-Right Shoes, Larson Corn Cure Shoes, Larson Bunion Removers and the M. L. Extension Shoes.

Larson Anatomic Sta-Right Shoes

are especially designed to correct flat feet, weak ankles and broken down arches. They are scientifically reinforced with steel plates at the insteps and wholebone stays in the uppers. This construction keeps the arch-bone in its proper place, the ankles erect, and the whole foot in the position that is natural and easy. With these shoes on your feet you will realize the joyous, springy feeling and that improved power of walking that only the wearers of these shoes enjoy.

Larson's Bunion Remover

A bunion, as you probably know, is an enlarged and inflamed condition of the membranous sac at the ball of the great toe. All bunions are caused from tight, ill-fitting shoes that squeeze the nerves and pull the muscles into a congested mass, causing this inflammation and enlargement. The only remedy known for bunions is shoes that fit all parts of the feet equally, allowing these muscles and nerves to relax and return to their proper place and perform their functions with ease and freedom. The Larson Bunion Removers are the only shoes on the market today so made that when on the feet they remove all pressure and do not bind and hinder the muscles. Thus they aid the bunions to disappear.

Larson Corn Cure Shoes

are a special type of shoes that actually cure corns and callouses. These shoes are so shaped and strongly fashioned that they remove the pressure from the tender spots along the toes, sides and soles of the feet.

This needless pressure which is caused by ready to wear shoes produces the agonizing discomfort of corns and callouses. The knife, salves, corn plasters, etc., will do no good—they may relieve for a time, but your trouble soon returns—they do not remove the cause. The Larson Corn Cure Shoes reach the cause and the cure is permanent.

M. L. Extension Shoes

This shoe is designed expressly for the lame and deformed. It is styled the world over as a godsend to humanity. By its invention thousands of lame and deformed are now walking with the ease and grace of the well. It hides all appearance of deformity, is light and serviceable and fits any shoe. It makes both feet appear alike and assures a perfect balance. It makes no difference what caused your deformity or how much shorter one limb is than the other, an M. L. Extension Shoe will permit you to walk without a limp.

DRY GOODS TRADE IN FORTY CITIES SHOWS BIG GAINS

Reports from Jobbers Taken as Strong Indication of Bel-ter Times.

Prosperity in abundance is exhibited in the reports of dry goods wholesalers in forty cities in the United States. The Dry Goods Economist, a publication devoted to dry goods interests throughout the country, has just completed a poll of the dry goods houses throughout the country. Jobbers in forty cities responded last week.

In its issue of Dec. 5 the trade paper commented editorially on the answers from the dry goods houses as follows: "Men high in the trade who afford them a broad and accurate view of the situation, express decided optimism as to the outlook. Various other developments of the week furnish strong ground for the general adoption of this attitude."

Turn for the Better Seen.
"That a turn for the better in the country's business and financial situation is either at hand or has already arrived is now the generally held opinion and that the leading dry goods jobbers are among those by whom this view is entertained is proved by reports from forty cities."

"Taking the distribution of merchandise as a whole, jobbers in a number of cities report for November a decided increase in sales over the preceding month. In this gain, more seasonable weather has played a prominent part, indicating that the retail movements assume activities as soon as customers' needs become apparent. That the retail trade is in a strong position is indicated by the smallness of the stocks carried by the stores and by satisfactory reports as to collections."

Taken as a Good Sign.
"Jobbers have exceptionally good opportunities for gaining the trend of business. As a body they are in close touch with thousands of retailers scattered all over the country, with exceptional opportunities for acquiring an intimate knowledge of their customers' financial situation."

"Consequently with the jobbing houses of this country looking forward with confidence to a marked improvement, the assumption that such expectations were well founded would be warranted even if other signs of betterment were absent." Prosperous business conditions generally, the editorial concludes, hinge on the financial condition of the railroads. It urges the business men of the nation to work for the increases which the railroads are seeking.

ASSAILED FARM BOARDS "STICK"

Members Said to Be Holding Jobs Illegally Not to Resign.

MAY ABOLISH THEM.

The fact that three Cook county members of the state board of agriculture and all but one of the county directors of the Illinois Farmers' institute did not reside in the congressional district they represent was recently disclosed in THE TRIBUNE.

Farmers of the county interested in agricultural advancement have telephoned THE TRIBUNE asking if these members so openly unrepresentative of their districts were not going to resign their places. As far as could be determined, they are all going to stick tight until they are thrown out by some such action as the legislature is contemplating in the abolishment of these boards.

What the Law Provides.
In the case of the board of agriculture the law specifically provides the members shall live in the district they represent; in the case of the Farmers' institute it is implied.

Louis E. Wink, a real estate dealer, representing the Eighth congressional district on the agricultural board and living in the Seventh, said he had "nothing to say." B. E. Heide, registered in the directory and said by his friends to live at the Stockyards inn, claimed his residence legally was in the Second district, which he represents.

The members of the Farmers' institute took the position that they were much abused men who were ably representative of their constituents.

Only Two Are Farmers.
Only two of the Cook county members of the Farmers' institute are farmers. These two, August Geweke, president of the Cook County Truck Growers' association, and Henry H. Schwinge, visited THE TRIBUNE office and brought records of proceedings of the county institute which showed them to be actively engaged in promoting the agricultural affairs of the county.

Mrs. J. M. Clark, the wife of another institute director from Chicago, declared that a Mrs. J. M. Clark on the list of speakers receiving money from the state institute was another person, with whom she was not acquainted. Her name was included in the list of relatives of directors who were on the pay roll.

Gutiérrez in Control.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 6.—Eulalio Gutierrez, the provisional president of Mexico, sustained by the Agraristas conference, together with Gen. Villa and Gen. Zapata, his armed supporters, formally occupied the capital section of Mexico City early today, according to a report given out officially by Villa agents here.

WASHINGTON AGAIN PUZZLED.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—What to do about the Mexican muddle again is becoming a pressing question which is causing the administration and the defense anxiety.

Following the publication of Theodore Roosevelt's denunciation of the Wilson-Bryan policy it became known today that the administration policy is to be called upon to defend itself before congress in regard to its course in dealing with the conditions south of the Rio Grande.

Col. Roosevelt's characterization of the administration policy as an unwarrantable meddling in Mexican affairs, as "hitting softly" and as an encouragement of brigandage and of the commission of atrocities from which American citizens and the Catholic clergy particularly have suffered, will be the theme of discussions in the senate which will be opened this week by Senator Borah of Idaho, a Republican member of the foreign relations committee.

Bryan Refuses to Answer.

Incidentally it may be remarked that there appears to be a pronounced division of opinion on the Roosevelt arrangement of the administration. Secretary Bryan refused today to answer Col. Roosevelt's charges or to comment in any particular upon the criticism of the administration. He was asked if he cared to state his version of the interview with him by THE TRIBUNE. New York, Mr. E. J. Connelley, a close ally of the administration, said today that when he protested to Secretary Bryan concerning outrages upon missionaries, Mr. Bryan retorted that "the followers of Huerta had committed similar outrages on two American women from Iowa."

Col. Roosevelt says that the reported utterance of the secretary of state "shows almost incredible callousness on his part to the most dreadful type of suffering, to acts far worse than the mere murder of any man."

It was intimated at the White House that President Wilson will pay his respects to the Rooseveltian view of his Mexican policy.

to British Admiralty.

New York, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Glenn H. Curtiss is to build another transatlantic flying boat for Rodman Wanamaker and the over ocean flight will be started as soon after the new boat is ready as weather conditions permit. The new Wanamaker flying boat probably will be ready early in the summer.

The new transatlantic flying machine will be the largest over water machine ever built.

Recently the flying boat America was sold to the British admiralty and shipped to England. Some excellent flights have been reported with the Wanamaker-Curtiss machine abroad.

Air Cruisers of the European Battle Fleets.

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE WAR BALLOON—England was not slow to recognize the value of the airship in war, and followed the lead of Germany with her Zeppelins. The one shown here is of the semi-rigid type. A number of these are now in use on the continent, though others are being held in reserve to repel the threatened air attack by Germany.
(Photograph by American Press association.)

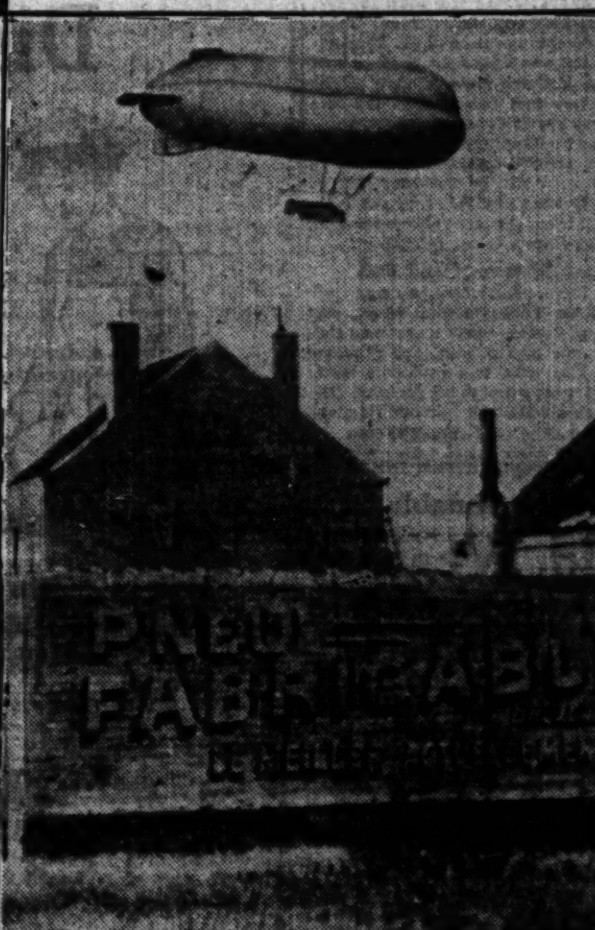

GERMAN ZEPPELIN MANSO LANDING AT POTSDAM HARBOR—This type of airship represents the highest development of aerial navigation by the lighter-than-air machine. Count Zeppelin, the inventor, has been showered with honors by the kaiser. It has been reported that the Germans are straining every effort in the building of additional airships, preparing for an attempt at invading England. They are expected to use their Zeppelins, when the time comes for their fleet to give battle to the British navy, in an attack from the air.
(Photograph copyright 1914 By Underwood & Underwood.)

FRENCH DIRIGIBLE PATROLLING OVER PARIS FORTIFICATIONS—This striking picture gives an excellent view of the French type of air-craft. The raids by the German dirigibles brought panic to the inhabitants of the French capital and other towns. To offset this army dirigibles equipped with rapid fire guns were kept constantly aloft on scout and patrol duty. A crowd of Parisians is shown watching the sky cruiser.

GERMAN MILITARY AIRSHIPS PASSING OVER CATHEDRAL AT NANCY—This remarkable picture shows a flight of one of the kaiser's air squadrons. In the early stages of the war the Zeppelin fleet was employed largely in scouting along the frontier and far inland in France to watch the progress of the French mobilization. Bomb dropping was also resorted to more than at present. The practice met with such violent disapproval from neutral powers that it has been largely discontinued by all the warring nations, especially against un-fortified towns.

BRITISH SKY CRUISER AT OSTEND—This picture was barred by the British censor. It shows the airship Beta flying near the famous Belgian sea coast town which for a long time was used by the British as a base. It was abandoned following the fighting after the fall of Antwerp.
(Photograph copyright 1914 By Underwood & Underwood.)

AUSTRIAN WAR BALLOON—This type of airship is used mainly for observation purposes as its dirigibility is much less than that of the rigid and semi-rigid types. The Germans have similar air craft, which are generally employed as captive balloons by the armies in the field to take up an observer with powerful glasses and range finders to locate the position and movement of the enemy.
(Photograph copyright 1914 By American Press association.)

VIEW FROM A ZEPPELIN OVER DUSSELDORF—This panoramic view taken from a German airship gives a comprehensive idea of their immense value in scouting. As a matter of fact the development of the sky carriers and aeroplanes has almost made the cavalry an obsolete branch of the service. Dusseldorf is one of the chief bases of the kaiser's airfleet.

Turkey's gradual disappearance from the map of Europe since the zenith of her fame in 1683. The black indicates Turkish territory.

WILL TURKEY BE DRIVEN FROM EUROPE?—One of the announcements of the allies, when Turkey entered the war, was that the Turk would be driven from Europe for all time. At the zenith of her glory Turkey, at the end of the 17th century, occupied a large part of southeastern Europe extending into the present confines of Austria and Russia and embracing Greece and all the Balkan states. By the time of the peace of Adrianople in 1829 the Turk had been pressed back almost south of the Danube and Hungary and Greece had been taken from under the sway of Constantinople. The treaty of Berlin in 1878 took Bosnia, Herzegovina, Servia, and all of old Russian territory of Turkey from the sultan. Roumania had secured its independence in 1861, but Bulgaria remained a modified dependency of Turkey until 1910. The Balkan war of last year all but drove the Turk across the Bosphorus.

Four Robbers Take Their Time
In Pulling Off Clean Job
In Meat House.

A man with his hands bound together in front of him entered the Warren avenue station early yesterday.

"I'm Willie Sturmski, night watchman for Morris & Co.'s wholesale market at 2001 West Madison street," he said. "I was eating my lunch in the barn, which faces Warren avenue, when the door opened and a man flashed a light in my face. Four men stepped in and got around me and one switched off my light. I could hardly see them, and I don't know whether they had guns or not. They demanded the keys. When I told 'em I didn't have them one knocked me down. Then they searched my clothes. They didn't find the keys, but took $15. Then they tied my hands and feet and threw me on some hay and put a wagon cover over me.

Hears Them Driving Away.

"Then I heard them driving away and one of them went out a rear door. One or two stayed behind and the others came back after a while and all went out. I kicked my feet loose, but I couldn't get this rope off."

The police cut the rope and accompanied Sturmski back to the barn. They found that the robbers evidently were unaware that there was an entrance into the office from the barn. After pulling horse blankets over the door they had entered some of the burglars had come outside through another door, climbed on the elevation of the Pennsylvania railroad adjoining the building, and broken a wire and glass window of the office. They had forced open the safe and escaped with the contents.

William F. Popp, manager of the market, said all the drivers had turned in their money early on Saturday and all but $474.30 had been taken to the bank. Besides this amount, the robbers removed 100 2 cent stamps from the safe.

Loose Diamonds and $60.

Leo J. Rean, proprietor of a cigar store at 138 East Twenty-second street, was stopped at Twenty-sixth street and Calumet avenue by two men, one of whom covered him with two revolvers, while the other went through his pockets. The thieves obtained $60, a diamond ring, and a diamond shirt stud valued at $400.

POISON PEN CASE COMES UP TODAY

Ypsilanti Woman to Be Put on Trial at Detroit as Author of Letters.

THEY BROKE UP HOMES.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Margaret McCready, formerly Miss Margaret Harper of Ypsilanti, alleged author of a number of highly sensational "poison pen" letters written to prominent Ypsilanti residents, will be placed on trial in the United States court tomorrow morning on a charge of misuse of the United States mails.

The letters charged several Ypsilanti wives with infidelity to their husbands. As a direct result, families were broken up, slander suits and counter suits were filed in the courts, and the letters, because of their obscenity, came to be known as the "poison pen" letters. All were anonymous. They always purported to come from a man.

Letters Charged Immorality.

For two years they kept the city in a ferment. First a letter making charges of immorality on the part of a wife would be mailed to the wife herself. If she appeared to take no cognizance of it, one repeating the charges, and sometimes adding more, would be mailed to the husband.

Federal investigators and postoffice inspectors worked on the case for a long time, before suspicion was directed toward Mrs. McCready, who lived with her father, C. O. Harper, in June of this year she was indicted and on June 19 was arrested in her father's home. When informed that the deputy marshal was a representative of the marshal's office, and before he told her what he wanted, she exclaimed: "O, it's about those letters. I suppose. It's all spitwork on the part of Jim Clark."

Clark Starts Investigation.

James Clark is a prominent citizen of Ypsilanti, and many of the letters purported to come from him. Some persons went so far as to openly accuse him of their authorship. He responded by beginning slander suits.

Mrs. McCready was a nurse in the Clark home before the letters first made their appearance. Mrs. Clark, whom she nursed, died. A little later the letters began to appear.

Expert Accuses Woman.

In his attempt to trace the course of the letters Clark took some of them to Albert S. Osborn, a New York handwriting expert. He also took a bona fide letter received by him from Mrs. McCready and signed with her name. Mr. Osborn made an affidavit that the "poison pen" letters and the letter written and signed by the woman were written by the same hand.

THE DAVIES LAUNDRY

DRY CLEANERS

TWO months of operation have proven that the great dry cleaning plant we built last summer is capable of turning out work quite up to the high standards established by Davies for laundry work.

You will find it true economy to take advantage of the splendid facilities we offer. The life of clothing is doubled, trebled and quadrupled by proper care—by such care as Davies can give it. Even old clothing will look like new if it is kept clean and pressed—in the Davies way.

Your home will be a brighter, healthier place if curtains, portieres, centerpieces, comforters, blankets and draperies are entrusted to Davies to be kept spick and span. And you, too, will be always presentable, assured, comfortable, self-respecting, if your apparel is kept "as new" by the matchless processes of the Dry Cleaning Department of the Davies Laundry.

We are repeating, in this field, the triumphs that have made us nationally known for perfect laundry work. The new plant is the last word in up-to-date dry cleaning equipment. Yet the equipment is only half the story.

The most important—and often the most neglected—feature of dry cleaning is the "spotting." It is not enough to put a garment through a general cleaning. There must be expert attention to each particular stain or discoloration. In order that this may be done perfectly, garments sent to the Davies Laundry for dry cleaning go through the following unusual routine:

1. They are thoroughly dusted.
2. They are dry cleaned in distilled fluid, which absolutely eliminates the possibility of any odor clinging to them.
3. They are "spotted" by an expert trained in the best shops of Paris, a man of 18 years' experience.
4. They are rinsed in fresh distilled fluid, removing all trace of the "spotting."
5. They are pressed by hand. No great machine flattens them out regardless of the shape a tailor has built into them. We take the slower, better way.
6. Electric irons are used, which make scorching or burning impossible. Every precaution is taken in this absolutely fireproof new building to prevent any loss or injury by fire.

In short, the same painstaking, individual care that made us supreme in laundry work is being applied to our dry cleaning. In doing laundry work, for instance, separate instructions are attached to each garment. You may order your shirts "Starched Stiff," "Starched Light," "Starched Medium," "Unstarched," "Cuffs Unstarched," etc., etc. You may give different orders for each shirt in your bundle. Every such order will be carried out as a matter of course and without any extra expense. Shops which sell fine linen wear recommend this hand laundry to their patrons.

Gowns of the most dainty and delicate materials, gloves, sweaters, down comforters, draperies, wool blankets, fancy vests, waists, cravattes, chair covers, overcoats, suits, skirts, neckwear, mufflers, and every other similar article threatened with impairment of value by dirt may be placed in our hands with the certainty that it will be cleaned in the very best manner possible. The national reputation of The Davies Laundry for perfect cleansing of fine linen is an assurance of what you may expect of Davies Dry Cleaning.

We cordially invite you to visit this unique laundry. You will find it a mighty interesting experience. You will be conducted through every department by W. O. Davies, W. T. Davies or W. H. Coyne.

Why Leading Chicagoans Send Their Laundry to Davies

THE above map indicates how thoroughly our automobile delivery service covers the suburban districts of Chicago. During the season we deliver regularly at the following golf and country clubs: Midlothian, Hinsdale, Glenview, Exmoor, Skokie, Ravinia, Onwentaia and South Shore. A list of our customers would read like a roster of the leading club men and society women of Chicago. And we are now giving them better service than ever before. Into the great plant we have just completed are concentrated 43 years of tireless striving for perfect laundry work. There is all manner of apparatus for making the work more efficient—many windows letting in floods of light—big, glowing tungsten incandescents for the dusk of winter afternoons—a splendid ventilating system—perfect sanitation; so that we may continue to grow, yet never turn out a piece of work which is not a credit to us.

Here are some of the reasons why the exacting and fastidious folk, who demand perfect laundry work, patronize us. Davies puts no ink marks nor threads on handkerchiefs, but keeps separate those belonging to each family while they are being washed.

Davies washes fine gowns, delicate blouses, delicate linens, etc., better than you could hope to have them done.

Davies cleanses wool blankets so wonderfully that they come back looking actually finer, fresher, softer and fluffier than the day they were purchased. The color is brought out in their original beauty and the "life," which has so much to do with a blanket's warmth, is fully restored.

Davies guarantees, not only to wash woolen underwear without shrinking it, but to restore to its normal size such underwear as has been shrunk.

Telephone Calumet 1979 and we will call for trial bundle. We deliver EVERYWHERE.

INSTITUTE AND

Ill. Dec. 1.—[Editor of The People.]—In your issue of the 23d your report contains apparent errors in the method of selecting the county members of the Illinois Farmers' Institute. In creating the Illinois Farmers' Institute was a general one, and provided for the election of a director from each judicial district of the state, and how they should be elected. The statute also provided that the board of directors should have the power to fill vacancies on the board. While it might be said that the law does not specify that vacancies should be filled from within the district, as Chicago pays its proportion of the tax, it is properly entitled to representation on the board. The agricultural interests in the Chicago districts were not concerned to select a director, but by law, the board filled the seat. In the selection of truck seed men, and in the selection of fairies Farmers and Farmers' Institute was expected that the agricultural interests of Chicago would be represented. The criticism that certain farmers and directors dominate the agricultural interests of Cook county, it is my understanding that Cook county has no rural fairies; certain it is that the Institute has nothing to do with general outburst of criticism against the agricultural interests of the state is but part of a larger program in an attempt to turn the farmers the management of the state and make of them a machine. The value of the Institute as a political asset is when it is pointed out that this channel the administration is now reaping the results of "redness" and the fruits of hatred. printer who printed the cards at the order of the confidence men.

More than 200 of the cards were left in the Imperial joint on the night of Oct. 4, when the place suddenly closed down, two and a half hours after Hoyne had told the mayor about the operation of such places, and the mayor had referred the matter to the detective bureau. Only two of the cards bore the official perforation.

"The number of police who were on the regular monthly pay roll of the Imperial building place," said Mr. Hoyne, "was about twenty or twenty-five—just about twice the number that I named in my letter to Mayor Harrison asking for the suspensions."

"At first there was only one official paymaster, who handed over the money to the detective bureau. But later so many of them declared themselves 'in' on the profits that another paymaster was necessary. This was also necessary on account of several disagreements over the 'split' on different swindles."

Graft Bats Up "Profits."
Halpin and Tobin were both participating in the money that was lost by the dupes of the confidence men in this place. I will not name the others at present, but I know all of them and will do so at the proper time. Suffice it to say that at the time the place closed so suddenly police graft was consuming almost all of the proceeds, so that, in fact, the real confidence men were getting little more than a salary for their work."

"Class has confessed that Kerwin was the go-between for the Ed Rice gang and the police. I have had Kerwin in custody since yesterday. I allowed Charles Erbstein, his attorney, to see him this afternoon. In the morning charges of conspiracy and operating a confidence game will be placed against Kerwin."

"Business was going along swimmingly at the Rice place when Barney Bertache returned to the game. Barney fled out a new payoff joint in an office building on Dearborn street. He had the sign 'Kansas Farm Lands' on the window."

Duff and another called Gordon—incidentally they have the reputation of being the best in the line—to work out of the new payoff joint. You see the payoff joint is the permanent and protected place of business of the confidence men.

"It is maintained with the proper stage settings and the proper police protection by one or two men. The other confidence men are usually known as 'steerers.' That is, they 'dig up the business.' They find the victim and 'steer' him into the 'payoff joint' where the swindle is perpetrated. It may be a poolroom for race betting, with a wire tapping adjunct, or a roulette or faro game—the payoff joint is always made up to fit requirements."

"Steerer" Is Free Lance.
"As the steerer is the man who produces the 'business,' he always receives the lion's share, or 40 per cent, of the proceeds. The other 50 per cent is divided between those maintaining the place and the police, who are protecting it, with proper allowances for expenses."

The 'steerer' is a free lance, except that he depends upon the keepers of the place for protection.

"Therefore, it is to the interests of the payoff joint keepers to have the most 'steerers' to bring victims to their place. This results in rivalry. This rivalry was the system brought about the breaking up of the system."

"Before Bertache opened he began to get assurances from the 'steerers' who were taking their victims to the suite in the Imperial building, that they would 'switch their business' to Bertache's place as soon as he opened. Naturally those in control of the Imperial place did not like this prospective loss of a good thing."

Tells Woos to Egan.
"Kerwin complained to Egan about Bertache opening up. The Imperial place wanted some action for the money it was paying the detectives. They wanted Bertache prevented from 'cutting in on their game,' as they called it."

"These complaints led to a conference between Bertache and Egan and several other of the crooked detectives. An altercation followed and in view of it Bertache postponed his opening a week. Within the ten days preceding last Oct. 7, Bertache had three separate conferences with Egan. On two occasions Bertache paid Egan money on several minor deals referring to the operations of pickpockets."

"On Oct. 6 the Imperial place closed several hours and I had told the mayor that such places were in operation and the mayor had passed the information down to the police department. I didn't name a place in my conversation, but the place closed that night."

Then Came the Shooting.
"And the next day Bertache and Egan and Monaghan shot one another down on the Rialto."

The prosecutor's latest statement throws more light on the events leading up to the pistol duel on the Rialto. It had been always feared that Barney Bertache could cause havoc if he once talked. If Bertache and Egan had been engaged in protection deals it is more than probable that the sudden order to close the Imperial payoff joint might have been attributed by Egan to a "sneak" by Bertache to the state's attorney.

For such an unpardonable offense there is only one penalty in the underworld, and that is death. Whether justice or expediency, Bertache almost paid the penalty in his pistol duel with Egan the next day. Mr. Hoyne has said since that it was not until after the duel that Barney decided to inform on crooked policemen."

Here's "Squealing" Ethics.
To newspaper reporters, Bertache explained his evidence as follows: "I still have the satisfaction of knowing that I have never squealed on a pal, and I never will. But the men I told on were no longer pals of mine. They were my worst enemies. They wanted to kill me, and tried to do it. I was a sucker to keep my mouth shut after such treatment."

Kerwin was confined Saturday night in the Hyde Park police station, while Class remained in custody at the Fifth street station. The latter is a former prize-fighter of unenviable reputation, who is now under several indictments for the operation of fake prize fights, running matches, and wire tapping confidence games. It was Class who rented the suite of rooms in the Imperial building. At that time he used the name of Schmidt.

Hoyne went to the Hyde Park station at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and questioned Class and Kerwin. Then the former was released on the prosecutor's orders and Kerwin was again locked up.

Hoyne reiterated his statement of having other confessions by members of the detective bureau who were among those sharing the prosecutor's orders and Kerwin was again locked up. The prosecutor indicated that the presence of "weak sisters" among the crooked detectives was a matter that the rest of the bribe takers might well fear.

"They are falling over themselves to talk," said Mr. Hoyne. "They are knocking one another down to save themselves and get immunity. I am receiving additional offers of confessions every day. I am making no general offer."

Accepts Best Witnesses.
"I am giving immunity only to those who can supply the one or two missing links in the chain of evidence. In cases where there are three or four willing to offer themselves as witnesses to supply that link I am accepting the one I consider the least guilty and rejecting the others."

The prosecutor refused to answer questions concerning the acceptability of certain officials and detectives in the first instance they offered to turn state's evidence and confess on the ring of the fellow crooks with badges.

Capt. Halpin and Lieut. Tobin confessed during the day with their attorney, Charles E. Kristian, with regard to giving themselves up this morning on charges which were issued by Judge Kersten when the grand jury returned the indictments against them. They have made arrangements to place bonds for their immediate release. Halpin's bond is $20,000, Tobin's is $15,000, and former Detective Walter O'Brien's is $15,000.

PAINTERS' BUSINESS AGENT HELD IN DYNAMITE CASE

Roy Shields Caught in Loop and Locked Up in Kensington as Labor Heads Look for Him.

Roy Shields, a business agent of the painters' union, sought by the police in connection with the dynamiting of a newly constructed building at One Hundred and Eighteenth street and Indiana avenue last Tuesday evening, was arrested yesterday and is being held at the Kensington station.

He was taken into custody in the loop by Detective Sergeant Walsh, Halligan, Kelly, and Boardman, and was questioned at the station by Lieutenant James Mooney. He denied any complicity in the dynamiting, which is said to have been the result of labor troubles.

Officials of the union learned of his arrest, and with John D. Farrell, their attorney, visited stations throughout the city in an automobile in an effort to find Shields. They did not find him until eight hours after his arrest.

LORDS OF VICE ACTIVE AGAIN, SAYS THRASHER

Committee of Fifteen Asks for Funds and Aid to Halt the Perturbed Revival.

The vice lords are making a strong effort to reestablish themselves in Chicago, according to a warning issued yesterday by the Committee of Fifteen. The statement declared: "Vice is still here with all its hideousness," and the committee made an appeal for funds to stamp out immorality altogether.

Reports of the committee show that its efforts in cooperation with the police department have put out of business 500 disorderly houses during the last year and a half. It is estimated that had the effect of reducing the income of vice by $1,000,000.

Phone Company Co-operates.
One of the most recent activities of the committee was an arrangement with the Chicago Telephone company whereby more than 100 telephones have been taken out of service. The committee regards this as a strong blow to clandestine vice. The cooperation of B. E. Sunny, president of the telephone company, was obtained by officials of the Committee of Fifteen—President Henry P. Crowell, Vice President Julius K. Crowell, Director A. Stanford White, and Superintendent Samuel P. Thrasher. Mr. Sunny agreed to remove telephones on the recommendation of Chief Gleason.

Within a year and a half the committee has been instrumental in sending thirty-four girls to their homes or to institutions. More than one of these young women came from good families.

Three Phases of Work.

There are three phases of the committee's activity. First, publication of names of property owners and cooperation with the owners who are willing "to clean up"; second, arousing public sentiment, and organizing district councils; third, stipulating police activities. It is the committee's published list of forty-four resorts, giving the names of owners. Within sixty days forty-two of the places had gone out of business.

Since Chief Gleason was appointed assistant police chief, he has organized the committee and the police, it is said. Mr. Thrasher has commanded Second Deputy Funkhouser's work.

OBITUARY.

JOSEPH BLOCK, founder of the Hyman-Michaels Steel company and one of the organizers of the Inland Steel company, died yesterday at his residence, 5015 Drexel boulevard. He was born in Phasenbolen, France, May 13, 1831, and came to America when he was 7 years old. He founded the Block-Polish Steel company in the early '60s and later organized the Hyman-Michaels Steel company. He was a director in several of the largest steel companies in the country. Funeral services will be held at his late residence tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock. Burial at Mount Sinai.

A Clean Mouth Promotes Health

Oral hygiene is quite properly focusing the attention of the medical profession as well as the laity. A noted authority is quoted as saying: "There is not one single thing more important in the whole range of hygiene than hygiene of the mouth."

In the process of sterilizing the mouth—destroying disease germs—dependence may be placed on Absorbine, Jr. This germicidal liniment has made good under severe laboratory tests and the use as a germ destroyer and preventive is becoming quite general. It is unlike the usual germicide because it is non-poisonous and is safe and harmless to the mouth and teeth of infectious bacteria, without injurious action on the teeth. Committee of Fifteen Asks for Aid in Its War on Vice.

The Committee of Fifteen appealed yesterday to the citizens of Chicago to lend their moral and financial support to the movement intended to eradicate commercialized vice. The appeal, sent out by Samuel P. Thrasher, superintendent, 507 Otis building, points out that a contribution of $5 makes you a member of the corporation, $25 an associate member, and $100 a sustaining member. The statement follows:

Vice Conditions as They Were.
In 1913, the civil service commission estimated the number of professional prostitutes in this city in the following language: "There are nearly 20,000, and 15,000 is a conservative estimate."

Vice Conditions as They Are.
In the report of the vice commission we read this significant utterance: "Prostitution in this city is a commercialized business of large proportions and with tremendous profits of more than $15,000,000 per year."

Think of it—"profits." What must have been the gross income!

While, through the cooperation of owners of property and the activity of the police, more than 500 houses of ill fame and disorderly saloons have been closed, including many of the most notorious resorts which had existed for years with apparent immunity, and while 2,500 professional prostitutes have been driven out of the city, or at least out of business in Chicago, it would be idle to say that commercialized vice has been eliminated. We quote briefly from a recent speech of Mayor Harmon: "In this cleanup a lesson has been learned by many of us. It has been made apparent that neither in Chicago nor in any single one of the continental cities is there, nor has there ever been, real segregation, real police control, real medical supervision. Though all the so-called segregated districts are closed and have been closed for months, there is now there vice in the outlying districts than there was during the wide open days. . . . Chicago today making an earnest, honest effort to clean up its sore spots. The effort is worth the making."

Vice is still here with all its hideousness. It is at this moment seeking to reestablish itself to pursue its money making warfare against decency. The indifference of good people contributes to the success of commercialized vice. The cooperation of good people assures the success of our war against it. It is the purpose of our committee to pursue this warfare with relentless energy. We need the help of all who have the honor of Chicago at heart, all who cherish the welfare of its children, that we may scourge out of our city the evil parasites who have grown rich and who seek to grow richer by the most awful trade in the world.

Decency is in a struggle with indecency. We call for reinforcements. May we depend upon your help, be it much or little, that we may continue an aggressive warfare upon commercialized vice until it shall no longer threaten our homes? May we have your cooperation now?

FRANK W. RESTORICK, 60 years old,

CHICAGO CALLED "JEWEL FENCE" OF THE NATION.

Attorney Declares That More than $200,000 Worth of Gems Vanish
Mysteriously Every Year.

"Nearly $200,000 worth of jewelry is stolen in Chicago every year. It vanishes from sight, never to be recovered, just as other jewels from every part of the country vanish in this city, for Chicago is the 'jewelry fence' of the nation."

This was the assertion yesterday of Franklin N. Wood, counsel for the National Jewelers' Board of Trade, in commenting on the fact that the Chicago police had never to his knowledge uncovered any of the "fences" which dispose of the stolen jewels that disappear in Chicago.

"There are more jewelry robberies of all kinds and descriptions in Chicago than in any other city in the world," he said. "The city has achieved such a reputation among diamond crooks and jewelry thieves that they bring their stolen wares here to dispose of them. It is particularly a city where diamonds vanish mysteriously."

"Whenever a diamond salesman wants to lose or have his samples stolen, so that he can cheat his creditors, he always seems to come to Chicago."

-a Fortune for a Photoplay!

HERE is the broadest and most liberal offer ever made—the highest price ever offered for a photoplay manuscript. $10,000.00 will be paid to the man, woman or child submitting the best manuscript for a photoplay. Everybody is eligible.

No experience is necessary. We are seeking a new idea for a photoplay. If you can provide it you can earn $10,000.00. This offer is made by special arrangement between the Thanhousey Syndicate Corporation and The Chicago Tribune. Read the following conditions and then send your manuscript to Scenario Dept., Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

CONDITIONS:

$10,000.00 to be paid to the man, woman or child sending in the best idea for a photoplay serial story according to the decision of selected competent judges.

Manuscripts need not be in scenario form, nor technically correct. Simply an idea is wanted—a basic plot—which can be adapted to a photoplay serial to appear at the motion picture theaters in weekly episodes of two reels each, while the novelized version of the photoplay is to appear simultaneously in serial form in The Chicago Sunday Tribune.

Only an idea is necessary—an experienced scenario writer will be provided to write the accepted story in scenario form to take care of mechanical effects, and an experienced writer will be provided to write the accepted story in novelized form for the newspapers; but all credit for the creation of the photoplay and story will be given the original author of the accepted idea. The inexperienced person has as good an opportunity as the professional.

Manuscripts must not be less than 1,000 words—no limit to maximum number of words; should consist of thorough outline of plot and sub-plots, suggestions as to characters, time, place, geographical locations, etc.

Manuscripts may be submitted in pencil, pen and ink, or typewriting—writing on one side of paper only. Manuscript must bear no evidence of the author's name or address, but must be numbered; a corresponding number and the title should be written on a slip of paper with the name and address of the author, and should be sent with the manuscript.

All manuscripts must be original—they must not be based on any photoplay that has been shown, or any drama or comedy that has appeared on the stage or in book form. The author must be the originator, and the manuscript must be original.

No one connected directly or indirectly with the principals of this offer—The Chicago Tribune or the Thanhousey Syndicate Corporation—is eligible. Offer is open to all others.

It is suggested that the manuscripts include a series of climaxes each of which will be adaptable to a two-reel episode, with a master plot running throughout the story, resulting in a grand dramatic climax.

The elements of a great photoplay serial are: Love, adventure, mystery, thrills, child interest, characters of today, human interest, scenes from everyday life.

Don't be governed by any play or plot you have seen or read. Depend upon your originality. No experience is necessary. The crudest manuscript may contain the idea that will be accepted.

You may use the very simplest form. It is not the form we want, but the idea. A new idea written in a simple form, like the following, will be acceptable:

"John Smith is a young village doctor, but has little practice. He returns home one night to find his wife sick in bed. He tries to find out what is the matter with her, but cannot. At last, in desperation, he telephones long distance for Samuel Jones, a wealthy city physician, formerly a rival suitor for Mrs. Smith's hand, etc., etc."

Now, that form is simple enough, isn't it? Get the right idea and write it as simply as that, and you may earn the $10,000.00.

The accepted photoplay will be produced by two of America's greatest film companies—the Thanhousey Film Corporation and the American Film Manufacturing Company—in studios at New Rochelle, New York, Chicago, Ill., and Santa Barbara, California, and will be shown at theaters throughout the world.

All manuscripts must be sent to the Scenario Department of The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Illinois, and must be in The Tribune office not later than midnight, January 17th, 1915. No manuscript will be returned. All manuscripts to be sent at the sender's risk.

All manuscripts beside the one that earns the $10,000.00 reward may be accepted by the Thanhousey Syndicate Corporation for production by its allied companies, and paid for at the regular market prices. Offers will be submitted for them which can be accepted or rejected by the authors.

The name of the man, woman or child who earns the $10,000.00 reward will be announced in Episode No. 1 of the story and photoplay. Photographs of the winner and his or her home environment will appear in Episode No. 1.

The greatest plays of the last ten years have come from the minds of previously unknown persons. It is the purpose of this plan to discover some one who can write a great photoplay, and to reward the creator with $10,000.00 for the task.

This offer is absolutely bona fide, and is made by special arrangement between the Thanhousey Syndicate Corporation of New York City and The Chicago Tribune.

Open to any MAN, WOMAN or CHILD not connected directly or indirectly with principals.

All manuscripts must reach office of Chicago Tribune by midnight, January 17th, 1915. Address:

DOES CLOSE WITH BANG.

Ind. Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The lid on the Gary vice district a week ago was closed with a bang. A scandalous episode is likely to be the result of a local association which had detectives on the trail of "Mike the Pike," the old vice king in Chicago; Ben Hyman, owner of Chicago's old gambling trail, and "Sunny" Sheets, an East Chicago gambler.

Three have left town as quietly as they arrived a few days before the lid was thrown wide open again. "The vice king" was current that an agreement had been broken and there are rumors somebody was "double crossed."

Chief of Police Heintz. A few days after Heintz had permitted the district to reopen a storm of protest was raised by women's organizations and the Gary Minister's association. Heintz explained in a statement to the public that he had been unable to control the district and would try to segregate the experiment. He announced he refused to change his views on the district and would not resign.

Majority silent. Protests began to come in by the hundreds and the vice neighborhood was referred to as the "segregated district."

In the meantime, a daily visitor to Gary, a well-groomed man who was pointed out to strangers as Ben Hyman of Chicago. Upon arrival in town Hyman acquired a handful of nickels and made for the nearest telephone booth, where he had considerable telephoning about him. It was whispered about that Hyman's visit had to do with the reestablishment of racing at the Mineral Springs track.

Glory of Vice Heads.

"Sunny" Sheets also was seen slipping away to Gary from East Chicago frequently. "Mike the Pike," jailed recently during the Knotts administration, was welcomed back to the bosom of the newly organized vice ring. "Any way the old vice district was alive and running full blast, and its population was being swelled hourly when Chief Heintz suddenly left town on Saturday. It was stated he had gone to Kentucky. A. Forbis, local Berthel superintendent and former dockkeeper of the vice press gallery at Washington, became acting chief. The first thing he did was to countermand the orders of his superior officer. Squads of detectives were sent to the district and within an hour signs of inmates was in progress.

HYMAN MAKES DENIAL. Ben Hyman in Chicago denied any connection with Chicago vice.

"I've been in Gary recently in connection with the legislation we are trying to obtain on racing," said Hyman last night. "Neither Mr. Sheets nor myself have had any dealings with this fellow either nor do we intend to have. It would be a pleasure to us to see every disreputable place down closed."

"The truth is some of those fellows have been running joints all over the state and the chief thought things had gotten beyond his control. So he opened up the old district and then was swamped with old twenty-second street characters and west side divekeepers outbidding each other for the locations. He simply had to close things up again."

'ARMCHAIR EATS' FOR GAY PARTY

OF WELL-TO-DO. Louis A. Kohn Host to 25 Wealthy Guests in Cafeteria.

The spectacle of twenty-five well-to-do people whirling in the dance and partaking of refreshments of the "help yourself" variety in a help-yourself "armchair" restaurant was presented Saturday evening to passersby at 1413 Michigan avenue.

Louis A. Kohn, president of the Luposa Tailoring company, and well known in the wealthy south side circles, was the host. Among the guests, most of whom brought wives or daughters, were such known figures as Carl Meyer and Isaac Meyer of the law firm of Meyer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt, and Albert D. Lankey of the Lord & Thomas advertising agency.

The restaurant was closed to the general public for the occasion and an orchestra, was installed. The customary "food bar" was kept in operation, however, and all the checks were passed over to the host, Mr. Kohn.

"How did you like the eat?" Mr. Kohn was asked. "Everybody waited on himself or herself."

"I suppose the check couldn't have been more than $5 for the party of twenty-five," ventured the reporter.

"Nothing like that when the guests sample everything in the place," averred Mr. Kohn. "And, believe me, those guests were good samplers."

EASTERN TOWN FIRE SWEPT: BOMB EXPLOSION SUSPECTED

Four Persons Lose Lives and Central Part of Ardley-on-Putnam, N. Y., Is Destroyed.

New York, Dec. 6.—Fire, believed to have started from a bomb explosion, caused the death of William Johnson and his family of three, and destroyed the central section of the village of Ardley-on-Putnam early today. The loss is estimated at about $100,000. Michael Treffe, for whom the bomb is believed to have been intended, is missing.

BRIBERY DENIED BY MISS COPE

Attorney Says She Was Acting in Good Faith with U. S. Officials.

TALKS TO REPORTERS.

Miss Jessie E. Cope of Los Angeles, Cal., who obtained the indictment of Charles Alexander, a wealthy resident of Providence, R. I., under the Mann act, and who herself is under arrest on the charge of attempting to bribe United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne and several of his assistants to join her in blackmailing Alexander out of $50,000, yesterday outlined her probable defense. In substance Miss Cope sets up that whatever compromising documents she signed in District Attorney Clyne's office were the result of misunderstanding on her part, she believing that "it was a proper thing" for her to do. That she had any idea of bribing anybody or any other corrupt motive was denied.

Attorney Issues Statement.

Miss Cope's defense, as in the form of a formal statement handed out by her attorney, Elwood G. Godman, formerly an assistant United States district attorney, at Coulter house, 2119 Calumet avenue, where Miss Cope is in charge of Miss Kate Adams.

"As much for the protection of other young and unsuspecting women against the wiles and arts of unprincipled men as for any other reason, Miss Cope voluntarily has made of herself a public accuser to vindicate the law," is a sentence from the statement.

"If she has signed any documents or entered into any so-called agreement with any government officials whereby they have agreed for a consideration to do some act in respect to effecting a settlement of the civil injury inflicted upon her, she did so in entire good faith, upon representations made to her by such officers that it was a proper thing to do and in the line of their duty to assist her," continues the statement.

It is also set forth that Miss Cope is "astounded and dumfounded" at the bribery charge preferred against her by the government.

Denies She's "Ula Stroud Cope." A telegram received from Horace Keller, chief of police of Delaware Water Gap, Pa., inquired whether the Miss Cope under arrest here also has been known as "Ula Stroud Cope." Lieut. Michael Chohesy of the central station investigated and received denial from Miss Cope that she ever had used the name of "Ula Stroud Cope," or that she had any recollection of ever having been in Delaware Water Gap.

During the evening Miss Cope and her mother, who is in Chicago with her, received callers and chatted with reporters.

BLAIR PLEADS FOR SAFETY OF TRACTION FUNDS

Says Inroads Into Street Car
45 Per Cent Would Impair Expansion of Lines.

RAPS BECKWITH VIEWS.

In an interview at his home yesterday Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago Railway system, covered the case of the street railroads in the controversy between the administration and the board of engineers. In the course of his talk he pointed out that the companies have had no alternative but to follow the system of accounting prescribed for them by the board of engineers acting under the ordinance, and that $150,000 has already been expended in special audits.

Mr. Blair said that the records show the companies to have expended over $7,800,000 in paving streets and, although the electric cars cause no damage to this paving, the companies have spent $1,400,000 in repairs and maintenance necessitated by general city traffic.

While cars create no dust, according to Mr. Blair, the companies have spent more than $2,000,000 in street sweeping and sprinkling. The companies have given 50 per cent of net profits to the city and to cut further into their share remaining would impair their ability to sell bonds to provide the new money with which to expand the lines.

Views of Mr. Blair. Beginning with the audit of the books of the companies, Blair said that the companies have been audited each year by reputable and competent firms of accountants selected by the city and approved by the companies. Several annual audits of this character have been made and the city and have paid over to the city and the city has accepted on the basis of these audits more than $10,000,000.

City Pays 55 Per Cent. "In the making of these audits, including one special audit made during Mayor Busse's administration, the city and the companies have expended approximately $100,000, of which the city has borne 55 per cent. It would seem that this constituted a liberal expenditure for auditing purposes."

"A few months ago, however, the city, notwithstanding all these previous audits, decided to go over all these questions again and appropriated $50,000 of its own funds for the work and employed two firms of accountants to make the audit. One of these firms of accountants, Messrs. M. I. W. Scott and what will be charged to capital and what shall be charged to renewals and to operating expenses rests with the board of supervising engineers, and by the terms of the 1907 ordinance the companies are bound to conform to the rulings made by the board of supervising engineers with reference to these matters."

Refers to Scudder Report. "The Scudder report, as I understand it, certifies that the Chicago Railway company during the past seven years has at all times complied with the rulings and basis of accounting adopted by the board of supervising engineers. Under the terms of the 1907 ordinance the companies are bound to conform to the rulings made by the board of supervising engineers with reference to these matters."

No Chance for Accountants. "In fact, the specifications given by the city to the accountants were of such nature that the accountants were given no opportunity to express their own independent judgment from an accountant's standpoint, as to whether the rulings made by the board of supervising engineers were proper."

"But, on the other hand, they were required to follow specifications and opinions which were intended to show, in the final result, a large difference between the basis adopted by the board of supervising engineers and the basis now being recommended by the corporation counsel."

"The accountants, therefore, were obliged to follow these specifications, and the result of the two methods shows that about $7,000,000 have been charged to the companies and the balance to the city. This item alone involves nearly $8,000,000 out of the $15,000,000 mentioned above."

"I quite agree with Mr. Fisher that the corporation counsel may just as well have ordered that the cost of the tracks should also have been charged to the companies 45 per cent, instead of to capital. If, however, the corporation counsel's theory should be followed out, it

"Fiendish Atrocities" Charged to "The Allies" in Janitors' War.

Belaguered Airdrie Place Residents Protest
"Barbarities," Chief of Which Is Luring
of Maids by Handsome Picket.

AT THE BATTLE FRONT, AIRDRIE PLACE, Dec. 6.—Some day this week the attention of President Wilson, Secretary Bryan, and the department of the interior probably will be called to a series of atrocities which, it is alleged, are being committed under cover of the bitter warfare raging around the premises at 600-602 Airdrie place.

In this case it is the allies—the Janitors' union, the Amalgamated Milk Wagon Drivers, the Associated Ice-men, the Grocer Clerks' Protective Alliance of America, and the International Brotherhood of Butcher Boys—against which charges are made.

More cruel than the dum dum bullets which have the rending force of a charge from an elephant gun, more vicious than the bayoneting of the wounded, more treacherous than the poisoning of the water supply, are the methods attributed to their enemies by the beleaguered tenants.

His Gold Tooth an Asset. He is a handsome, dashing fellow, with curly, crisp red hair and a gold tooth which he knows how to show when he smiles. Whenever a maid in the service of one of the civilian sufferers makes a sortie to the grocery store or butcher shop it is the man's habit to show his gold tooth. Of late he has taken to tipping his hat. Sometimes he speaks of his lonely existence, of his fondness for going to picture shows when good company is to be had, of his skill at the modern dances, and the two invitations which he has to the janitors' ball—invitations that he will not use unless—

At night this sinister person is seldom seen. And nights off recently are being demanded with great regularity and fervor by the Marys and Janes of the garden.

BOYS WILLING TO CURE GROUCH OF LONELY MEN

Would Permit "Big Brothers" to Take Good Care
of Them.

FOR MUTUAL BENEFIT.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Every small boy should have two heroes—a big brother and a dog. In the boy's imagination, at least, the big brother should be a combination of John L. Sullivan and John D. Rockefeller.

It is the philosophy behind the Big Brother movement, which will be started on a city-wide scale in Chicago soon after the first of the New Year. Beginning in January the organization will be ready to furnish a Big Brother to any kid who is destitute in that regard; the dog he will have to provide for himself.

Sure Cure for Grouch. It appears there are several thousand boys in Chicago who are willing to adopt as many grown-ups as they can get. It is a philosophy which is being spread in how to play the game. The men have all the best of it, for one year's experience in being a Big Brother to a genuine, 12-year old Chicago boy is guaranteed to renew the youth of the worst old grouch in town.

The boys will understand in advance, however, that no man should volunteer as Big Brother unless he is prepared to stick through what will undoubtedly prove to be a strenuous and exciting lot of adventures. They have no time to waste on mollycoddles or mushheads. Unless the candidate can prove he is a dead game sport he may as well stay home. If he is handy with his mitts all the better. Knowing how to apply the strange hold or the double Nelson will be no drawback.

Will Cover Entire City. The boys are going into the work on a serious basis and it is to be hoped that their efforts to reform a lot of old and uninteresting people, who are already past 20 years old, will not be blocked by the efforts of men whose cases are hopeless to impose on their good nature.

The headquarters of the Big Brother movement will be in the Republic building, at State and Adams streets. Soon after Jan. 1 the whole city will be divided into districts and district headquarters will be opened in the small park fieldhouses and other public buildings.

Since it is often necessary for a kid to land a job, an employment bureau for boys will be opened in connection with the central office, which all the Big Brothers in town are invited to patronize.

No Nightwads Wanted. It costs money to pay rent and hire people to run the office and the boys are permitting a lot of men, who are anxious to begin the Big Brother course, to go out and try to raise $10,000 a year for the next three years.

The boys are certain that if folks knew how much fun there was ahead of them they would promptly come across with the dough. Of course if a man is a tightwad and refuses to loosen up, the kid that might have adopted him as a Big Brother will be easily able to find a substitute by hanging around the pool-room on the corner.

The boys are encouraged to adopt Big Brothers on a wholesale scale by the results of some of the experiences they have had in recent experiments. Following the example of other philanthropists they are careful, however, to conceal the real names of the unfortunate grown-ups they have tried to rescue from the bad environment into which they had drifted.

Case of "Clarence J." Take, for instance, the case of Clarence J., who was adopted as a Big Brother by a small Italian boy.

"When I took hold of the case of this poor old guy," says the boy, "he was eating and drinking a lot more than was good for him. He spent most of every afternoon playing cards and mopping up mialphais in a club."

It was necessary to use a lot of tact in correcting his bad habits. I deceived him into thinking he was taking me to the circus and later I got him to go swimming down to the lake. When he got the first look at his figure in a bathing suit I could see that he felt terribly ashamed. Of course I was careful not to hurt his feelings, but he started right in training and now he is getting into pretty good shape again.

"I expect eventually to make a real man of him."

Henry L. is another victim of bad surroundings who has been taken in hand by a self-sacrificing wide boy.

"This old fellow worked every summer afternoon when I first adopted him," says the little brother, "although he was already up to the ears in money. By approaching him in the right way I got him to go to a couple of ball games last August. Since then he has respected into his old bad habits. But by patience

Will Take Part in Minstrel Show.

Miss KATHERINE LUBY

Members of Leo X. court, Daughters of Isabella, will appear in black face minstrel, with John W. Rainey, clerk of the Circuit court, as interlocutor, at St. Anne's auditorium, Fifty-fifth and La Salle streets, next Friday evening. Miss Mary Sheehan, as chairman, will be aided in the minstrel by Miss Katherine Luby, Miss Regina Goode, Miss Rose McKee, and Miss Margaret McCrere.

and perseverance I hope eventually to wear him away from his present evil associations.

"By cautious inquiries I have learned that he once played first base on a scrub team, and I think that by tactful appeals to his vanity and occasional references to those earlier and happier days I shall be able to win his confidence and influence him in the right direction."

These in the Council. The boys have even gone so far as to allow the following grown-ups to organize themselves into a Big Brother council:

WILSON WILL FIGHT PORK.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The final session of the sixty-third congress will open tomorrow with a full program of business to be transacted and little chance of its accomplishment.

Leaders and members are practically unanimous in the belief that nothing except the passage of routine appropriation bills will be effected. Many even doubt that all of the supply measures will be put through and believe an extra session will be necessitated.

President Wilson will read his annual address on Tuesday. The president will urge economy in appropriations, conservative action with respect to army and navy appropriations, the enactment of a safety act, the passage of a rural credit measure, and the favorable consideration by the senate of the Jones Philippine independence bill.

Will Defeat Pork Barrel. The economy suggestion probably will result in the defeat of pork barrel river and harbor and public buildings bills. A huge appropriation of between $5,000,000 and $20,000,000 probably will be passed for the river and harbor work now in progress throughout the country. The public buildings bill may be abandoned.

President Wilson seeks the passage of the Alexander bill, which authorizes the United States to subscribe to the capital stock of a corporation which shall operate a line of merchant vessels, flying the American flag, and sailing from American ports. This bill contemplates the appropriation of $10,000,000 as a first payment on the ship purchase business. In the event of war the United States would take over the vessels for naval auxiliary service.

A lively fight is sure over the passage of a bill providing safety at sea. The senate passed the La Follette seaman's bill in October, 1913. The house committee on merchant marine construction, which amended it materially. As it passed the senate it was acceptable to the American Federation of Labor, which claims that the first necessity for safety at sea is the proper manning of vessels. As it has been agreed to in the house it meets the conditions laid down by the London conference on safety at sea and contains provisions for the latest idea in ship safety construction. The labor leaders declare that these ideas are as up to date as the most modern. The ship owners declare that it would bankrupt them to man vessels as demanded by the Federation of Labor.

Financial Aid to Farmers. Some months ago the president announced that he would not urge the passage of a rural credit law this winter. This announcement was received with hostility by the farmers, inasmuch as they had been led to believe that the passage of a rural credit law was planned for the coming year. The country people would be taken care of promptly in rural credit legislation.

Democratic leaders will make an attempt to call up the Philippines bill early in the session. The measure, as it passed the house, gives to the Philippines a different form of government from that they now have. It does not set a specific date on which they are to be granted their independence.

A legislature is created to consist of two houses. The members of the senate are to be elected. The governor general, to be named by the president, is given an absolute veto power. The legislature is given the right to override this veto by a two-thirds vote as in the American congress.

BECOMES FATHER, STABBED;
BROTHER OF WIFE IS HELD.

John Bugda Celebrates Arrival of Stork and Is Found Wounded—
Says He Was "Kicked."

Summoned to 611 West Fourteenth street early yesterday by Mrs. Mary Bugda, the police found her husband, John Bugda, whom she married four months ago, lying in a pool of blood in the vestibule with a serious stab wound in the abdomen. He is interested.

"A man woke me up tickling me," he stammered. "He quit and I went back to sleep."

The police learned that the stork arrived at the Bugda home Saturday afternoon and that Bugda went out to celebrate.

They were unable to find Stanley Sheehan, Mrs. Bugda's brother, who resides on the first floor. They learned he had become estranged with his sister gave birth to the child. They located him at the home of an aunt at 127 East Fifty-fifth street and took him into custody.

EXPECT GIRL TO RECOVER.

Attendants on Miss Maude Gregg, Who Shot Herself at Friend's Burial, Allow Her Visitors.

Miss Maude Gregg, who shot herself Saturday before the grave in which the body of Richard Raymond Lewis had just been buried, was surrounded by an inquisitive crowd of curious spectators, and interest in the Washington Park hospital yesterday. That Miss Gregg probably will recover was the only information vouchsafed. The girl, who had been in Chicago three years, lived with her mother at 5440 Michigan avenue. It is said that Lewis, who was secretary of the Elaborated Ready Roofing company, wealthy and married, had been a frequent visitor at the Michigan avenue apartment.

Miss Clara Hollis of 4230 Park avenue was at Kildare and West End avenues last evening when a young man accosted her and, placing his hand over her mouth, commanded her to turn over her money.

Miss Hollis handed him her pocketbook. The robber took 75 cents from it—15 all in quarters and the pocketbook, and a telephone card.

"Call the police with the slug," he said as he walked away.

CHICAN ELEVEN TO PLAY HARVARD AGAIN NEXT FALL

YOST'S MEN TO PLAY HARVARD AGAIN IN 1915

Cambridge Officials Give Michigan Chance for Second Game.

ANN ARBOR IN FAVOR.

BY KEENE GARDNER.

Coach "Hurry-Up" Yost and his Michigan football warriors will go to Cambridge next fall to meet Harvard for the second time in two years. This announcement, although not official, comes from an authoritative source and needs only the ratification of the Michigan council to make the contest binding. The invitation to go east again was extended by the Cambridge authorities shortly after the Yale game. No action will be taken until the meeting of the athletic board, shortly before the holiday vacation.

There is hardly a chance that the Michigan board will turn down the offer, for the Wolverines feel that with their powerful lineup for next season Yost's men are likely to return home victorious over Harvard for the first time in the history of the schools. With only three veterans returning on Yost's squad, and only a few left on the Harvard roster, there is much confidence expressed at Ann Arbor for next fall.

Shifts Made in Schedule.

Because of the pending game several shifts in the schedule will have to be made, and one or two of them already have been completed. Instead of playing a return game on the victor ground, as the original contract with Penn demands, Michigan will go to the Quaker grounds, Cornell and Syracuse, however, will be featured as the big home games.

Vanderbilt, which usually is played every other year at Nashville, Tenn., will return to Ann Arbor, while the Michigan Aggies probably will fill in an early date at Ferry field. Case of Cleveland, as usual, will be used to furnish the Wolverines with the first test of the season, and Middle Union, which has given Yost and his men considerable trouble in the last two games, also will go to Ann Arbor.

Another Tough Season in 1915. According to advance information the schedule of 1915 will be as heavy as the one of this year, which was regarded to be the toughest, and mapped out by any western team in recent years. Yost, however, feels that he will be better prepared than at the start of this season.

Center Raynford, Quarter Back Hughtitt, and Guard Hale will be among the missing members, as they have completed three years of collegiate football. James, end, and Bushnell, sub quarter, also will be ineligible.

With Dean, quarter back star of the freshman eleven, eligible next September, and Gell, linebacker, and Soliman, a back, the Wolverines are confident of having four good players in the line of the team.

Crismann Has Only Three Years. Comparing this lineup with Harvard's, the Crismann will be placed in the same position as Michigan was last year. Only three veterans, Mahan, Faxon, and Wallace, will report. Out of the squad of twenty-two men, only three are seniors.

With conditions hard for shooting, the weekly meet of the Chicago Gun club was featured by the third meeting of two men team event. Scores were taken by B. L. Kammner and O. W. Crocker.

Stade and H. Wembohn finished second in the team event with a total of 100, while B. Miller and O. W. Crocker landed third place with 100. Three other events were won by the same pair.

W. W. Crocker, who won the first prize in a twenty-five target handicap event, each scoring 22. B. L. Kammner won the fifty target at twenty yards event with a total of 100.

THIRTY-THREE DISTANCE HANDICAP. B. L. Kammner (30), 87 H. Wembohn (30), 85 O. W. Crocker (30), 77 H. Wembohn (30), 75.

First Game to Crescents. The Crescents opened the Chicago Indoor League season at Battery B, defeating the Mustangs 15 to 9 in a free hitting game. With the Mustangs in the line, the Crescents were victorious and only one run was scored, while the Crescents pounded out seven runs in the fourth and eighth innings. Doss featured with two hits.

Victor Supremacy

The fact that the world's greatest artists make records for the Victor is conclusive evidence that the Victrola is the world's greatest musical instrument.

Unlike any other musical instrument the scope of the Victrola is unlimited. It is all musical instruments combined in one, and in addition it is the actual voices of the greatest singers in the world.
